THE TREASURY AND GOLD CERTIFICATES.

MINISTER VARELA'S DEFENCE.

To-day I shall examine the Government bill for the creation of a national Treasury and the issue of certificates for gold and silver in the deposits. I shall begin with the certificates. In regard to the certificates which will represent the exact amount of gold and silver in the Treasury. I may say that the attacks of the opposition press are so contradictory that they amount to nothing. No one will take them, they say. If this is the case, there will be no certificates in circulation, and therefore there is no reason for the clamor raised by the opposition against their issue, nor for the monstrous supposition that they will be subsequently declared inconvertible. It is indeed a great pity that my opponents should deem it right to seek arguments in suppositions of such a nature. They wilfully confound the certificate with the banknote, and they ignore the fact that the Argentine Government cannot touch deposits that are not its own. Such suppositions are attacks not on the minister but on the honorability of the Government and country. Will the functions of the National Treasury lose their importance if the public do not apply for the certificates, for it is only in case of application that the certificates will be issued? The very word certificate denotes a deposit and an application for receipt acknowledging same, and the certificate by being made payable to bearer is designed to facilitate its circulation. In what way, my opponents ask, will these certificates be of service? Why, they will answer the same end as the gold certificates or coupons of the Banks, which they will replace according as the public apply for them. Time is money in trade and commerce, and these certificates will have a ready circulation, while the task of counting and weighing the gold and silver will devolve on the Treasury. Let us with a stretch of imagination, suppose that no applications will be made to the National Treasury for certificates. The guarantee and conversion fund will still perform its functions. The 50 millions will be bought up and will serve, as money of intrinsic value, to meet the requirements of the banks and commerce, and Government will renew the fund with the elements placed at its disposal. In this way the Treasury will continue to sell gold and silver, or the latter will not be sold and will serve to regulate the value of the bank-note; or, another result of the hypothesis, only part of the gold and siver held by the Treasury will be sold, and the guarantee and conversion fund, which the Government will renew according to law, will be there performing its functions, the object of which is to prescribe a boundary to the depreciation of the bank-note and to strengthen its value until the moment be ripe for conversion. These functions and this object have been completely ignored by the opposiion Press. The gold will not be kept under lock and key as maintained by my opponents. On the contrary, the Government actually goes out of its way and becomes a public agent for facilitating the export of gold! Where then is the reason for all those senseless attacks and criticisms on the bill? If gold is to be exported, it will be exported even if 160 per cent and more have to be paid for it. What the country wants is a mechanism which would keep up a running supply of the precious metal, and this is one of the objects of the Minister's Bill. Yet, like the rest, it is utterly ignored. The opposition Press mention that, as from 1881 to 1887, we paid off our engagements by the use of credit, so must we employ our credit to pay off the balances for 1888. Why that is precisely my argument, and yet it is meant to show me that I have gone on the wrong tack, but I go further: I not only maintain that we need credit to pay off our debts abroad, but we moreover need credit—we need specie, in other words—for our home requirements, and that object is embodied in my projects. Yet that object is likewise ignored by my opponents who make so free to attack the bills. And these objects, in brief, are the first of all the measures I propose to remedy the situation.

I have not had time to calculate the balance of the amounts of gold imported within the last three years and the sums exported, with a view to ascertain the amounts absorbed by the country for its banks, and horded up by immigrants who have but little confidence in the Republic. But I roughly set down the amount at 40 million dollars. How much more gold, I ask, shall we need for the impouring crowds and for that increasing host of timid settlers who metallize as fast as they earn? This is a question which the press should study seriously, and the Government is now grappling with. I will say the same of the immense sums which are being exported to the neighboring markets of Rio and Montevideo. Is any one ignorant of the fact that this moment Montevideo dubs Portenos those men, native and foreigners, who carry out there vast enterprises with capital taken from Buenos Ayres, and which will continue to flow from our city? These loans have nothing to do with the requirements of our commerce. We have the right to collect our dividends on those sums lent out. But in the meantime our gold goes away, and our paper money becomes depreciated. These exigencies of a neighboring state will subsist for some time to come.

Have the papers that so bitterly attack the Finance Minister studied this situation? No. So far from doing so, they have seized some false reports from Montevideo and on them raised a superstructure of senseless arguments. Why did they not ask for the balance-sheets of the banks, and gather from trustworthy figures some material for argument?

All the opposition papers maintained that foreign capital was flowing from here and was being gathered in Montevideo, as if such a small market could bear the weight of so much money. What is the real truth? Take up the balance-sheets of the Montevidean banks and there you will see in the light of unerring figures that if formerly Uruguay had much gold, to-day the precius metal is flowing away because the country cannot retain it. It cannot retain it, because the situation of the market is exactly similar to ours, and gold can no longer constitute the sole monetary medium. The balance-sheets to which I have alluded shew that on the 31st May the gold in the vaults of the banks had been reduced by 1,389,530 as against the stock in the month of April, and this explains in some degree the great demand made in our market for gold. All these circumstances conspire to complicate the situation and should not be lost sight of. The opposition-papers do not even feign to perceive them. Do they propose anything better? Yes, to wait for the Greek-Kalends.

NEWS FROM PARAGUAY.

The latest intelligence from Asuncion is the successful formation of an English Club which has taken premises in Calle Florida. The President is Dr. Stewart H. B. M. Consul; Vice President Mr. Alfred Busk; Chairman of Committee Mr D. B. McCullock; Hon. Treasurer Mr. Charles. S. Browning; Hon. Sec. Mr. Charles Featherstone; Mr. Campbell P Ogilvie, Deputy Chairman of the Anglo-Paraguayan Land Co. and Mr. Fredrick Perry, of Messrs. Perry, Cutbill, Delungo and Co., have been elected Honrary Life Members, and this institution, which is the first practical outcome of the important British interests now existing in Paraguay, bids fair to infuse new vigour into the social life of the capital.

The Morra Tramway has been taken over by Mr. Ogilvie, who has appointed Mr. L. Black as manager. Under his energetic direction an improved service will be immediately inaugurated and every inducement will be offered to the public to reside in the healthy and picturesque suburb of Villa Morra, where numerous villas and chalets are in course of construction. The new and well-appointed hotel also affords every accomodation for strangers, special attention being paid to cleanliness and European requirements in the cuisine. It will now be reached from the city within 30 minutes. The railway has passed into the hands of the Paraguay Central Railway Co. of London, represented by Mr. Henry Valpy M. J. C. E., who has been busily engaged for more than two months in arranging the preliminaries. In overcoming the difficulties which arose from time to time Mr. Valpy has been most indefatigable and has exhibited much tact and judgment. Under his superintendence the train-service and the management of the railway will be placed on a footing suitable to the requirements of the public and the shareholders with the least possible delay. To Dr. Stewart is due all the credit of the success of the prolonged negotiations which took place in order to promote and secure this new departure for Paraguay under the auspices of English capitalists. Already the country is showing signs of returning prosperity; and all that is wanted to ensure its profitable development is a moderate share of the immigration which has helped to make Argentina one of the most rising countries in the world.

The extension of the railway from Villa Rica to Encarnacion, which has been undertaken by Messrs. Perry, Cutbill, De Lungo & Co. of London, will now be proceeded with under the energetic supervision of Mr Daniel Angus C. E.

The murder of Mr. Charles Phipps at Tacuaral cast quite a gloom over the English community. H. B. M. Consul promptly instituted a searching enquiry into the circumstances connected with it, and the assassin is already in custody waiting trial.

There is a good deal of housebuilding going on in this city, and suburbs, and artisans for trades connected therewith are in demand.

The weather has recently been quite cold, making winter clothing indispensable to comfort, and the warmth of a stove most enjoyable.

Transport and business have been interrupted by the rains, and merchants complain of dull trade.

Money is scarce, but the release of the 210,000 sovereigns handed over in part payment of the railway, will no doubt be a welcome addition to the market and have a good effect in promoting commerce. The Anglo-Paraguayan Land Co. has now been registered and is at work.

Mr. Frank Orange C. E. of London, who is connected with the Paraguay Development Co., is at present here with a view to the adoption of certain projects which are on foot in connection with different branches of industry.

The Postal Service is much in need of reform, and the Telegraph is so unutterably unreliable as to be practically useless. These important aids to the welfare of the country require immediate attention at the hands of the authorities, more especially now, when English capital is being attracted to it, in spite of the unfair opposition of other foreign competitors.

It behooves the Government to lend its powerful aid to the removal of local abuses and to the improvement of the internal means of communication with the capital. With pence and the honest administration of justice under a firm and energetic Executive, the progress of Paraguay is no longer doubtful.

ROCHEFORT ARRESTED.

THE EDITOR OF THE "INTRANSIGEANT" IN AN AFFRAY WITH PILOTELL.

PRIZE-FIGHT IN BIRMINGHAM.

A NIECE OF JEFFERSON DAVIS CHARGED WITH POISONING HER HUSBAND.

DEATH OF MRS. DALLAS GLYN, THE ACTRESS.

London, May 19, 1889.

About 6.30 last evening M. Henri Rochefort, director of the Intransigeant, was walking down Regent-street, in the company of several friends, when he encountered M. Pilotell. An altercation ensued, in the course of which it is asserted that M. Rochefort drew a revolver from his pocket, and was about to fire upon M. Pilotell. The bystanders interfered and disarmed the talented, but touchy, journalist. The police came up and quickly carried off both M. Rochefort and M. Pilotell to the nearest station, where the latter made his charge against his militant countryman. M. Rochefort's revolver was examined, and found to contain six fully-loaded chambers. M. Rochefort was released on bail, but will have to appear before the Police-court to-morrow (Monday).

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in Regent-street last evening by a quarrel between a party of Frenchmen. It appears that at about half-past six o'clock M Rochefort was walking down Regent-street with a young lady on his arm. She was a relative of his late wife. As they were shopping a "kind friend" stepped into the Cafe Royal, where the artist Pilotell was spending the evening with some friends, and informed the latter of the proximity of his foe. Pilotell appears to have resolved on the spur of the moment to encounter Rochefort, and acting on the resolution went up to him and, according to the account of a bystander, shook him by the collar and then slapped him in the face with his glove. Rochefort at once carried his hand into his breast pocket and endeavoured to draw out a revolver. Pilotell, it is averred, called for the police, and on an officer arriving, M. Rochefort was arrested and led off to the Vine-street Police-station.

The news flew rapidly round the French colony, and on its coming to the ears of General Boulanger, the latter drove to Vine street to offer himself as bail for his friend, who had been charged by Pilotell with assault, and who was detained in custody. Probably to the General's astonishment, the officer on duty at Vine-street refused to accept him as bail, and Rochefort continued in custody until more eligible bail was forthcoming. Mr. George Moore, of Christy Minstrel fame, offered himself, but in the meantime information of the arrest had been carried to the Hotel Dieudonné, Ryder-street. Mme. Dieudonné was informed that at least £50 bail would be required, and she put that sum in gold into her pocket. On arriving at Vine-street simultaneously with Mr. Moore, she was accepted as bail. After a couple of hours' detention Rochefort was allowed to leave with his landlady, and M. Pilotell, after signing the charge-sheet, and being required to appear at Marlborough-street Police-court on Monday morning to prefer the charge, also left. He returned to his friends at the Cafe Royal.

Yesterday morning two Birmingham pugilists named Hill and Cocky fought for three hours in a field in the suburbs of Mosely, about three miles from Birmingham. A large number of sportingmen were present, and after a long and savage contest the battle was declared a draw. Both men were badly injured. The police did not interfere.

The rumours which have been current in Liverpool for several days with reference to the alleged death by poisoning of Mr. James Maybrick, a Liverpool merchant, the brother of Mr. Michael Maybrick, better known as Stephen Adams, the composer of popular songs, took definite shape yesterday afternoon, when Colonel Bidwell, one of the county magistrates, accompanied by Mr. W. Swift, clerk to the magistrates, and Superintendent Brining, proceeded to the residence of the deceased gentleman in Cressington-road, Aigburth, to formally open the police proceedings. The attendance of the magistrate at the house was necessitated by the fact that Mrs. Maybrick was stated to be too ill to be removed to the ordinary sitting before the county magistrates at the Sessions House. After a preliminary consultation, in which the mode of procedure was agreed upon, the magistrates went to Mrs. Maybrick's bedroom. The unhappy lady lay in bed and was extremely pale and haggard, but exhibited no emotion. The officials stood near the bed, and Superintendent Brining, taking up his position at the foot, charged Mrs. Maybrick with causing the death of her husband by the administration to him of poison, and asked for a remand of eight days, which was granted.

It was subsequently arranged, with the concurrence of the medical men, to convey the lady in a carriage to Kirkdale Gaol accompanied by the doctors and the professional nurse attending upon her. Mrs. Maybrick is a French Canadian of aristocratic birth. She is the daughter of a baron, and the niece of Mr. Jefferson Davis, late President of the Southern Confederacy. She is described as about 27 years of age, and the deceased was 50. The name of a third party is freely mentioned in connection with Mr. Maybrick's mysterious death.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

MR. PARNELL'S RE-EXAMINATION.

THE LAW'S CLOVEN FOOT.

May 8th.

Mr. Parnell's re-examination came to an end this afternoon in the midst of rather a stormy scene in court. The Attorney-General was referring to some cheques for small amounts he had found in Mr. Parnell's accounts in favor of persons such as Curley, Gallagher and others whose names had been compromised. Mr. Parnell gave sufficient explanation in regard to some of them, and replied in his usual bland manner until the Attorney-General continued ostentatiously to read out other names and said he declined to question Mr. Parnell concerning them. Mr. Parnell then became angry and appealed to the president, and asked if it was not a great hardship to have the names of persons in whose favor he had given cheques read out, when he had voluntarily produced these cheques and ought to have the opportunity of explaining them. The President, frowning, said "he did not think it any hardship at all." Sir Charles Russell came to the assistance of his client and remarked on the injustice done to Mr. Parnell. "I don't see anything of the kind," said the President brusquely. Sir Charles said "he must still hold to his own opinion." "We are not here to have the private opinion of Sir Charles Russell or anyone else," said the President, hotly. "We have to conduct the matter in proper legal form." Sir Charles went on with provoking coolness repeating his opinion, whilst Sir James Hannen grew hotter and hotter and shouted and thundered. The Court was breathless with suspense, wondering what was going to happen next, when Mr. Parnell intervened by remarking, "I am perfectly willing to explain any cheque."

"I hope," said the President, turning to the Irish leader, "that you will follow the advice to produce any documents which have any bearing on the case. You ought to have been advised."

"These names," said Mr. Parnell, "ought not to have been mentioned unless questions on them were put to me."

"You are" said the President, threateningly, "following the example which has been set of repeating that which I have said there is no call for."

Here Sir Charles Russell again came between the witness and the President. "Are you," he asked of Mr. Parnell, "ready to be examined now?"

"MOST UNDOUBTEDLY"

said Mr. Parnell emphatically, with flashing eyes.

"Then I submit he ought to be," asserted Sir Charles Russell, sitting down with a gesture of exasperation.

The President could hardly control his rage. "It is not a question of what Mr Parnell desires, but what we direct," he said in crescendo tones, and bringing his hand down heavily to emphasise the last word. "I submit," said Sir Charles, while onlookers held their breath at the phase this discusion was taking, "that in fairness he ought to be examined now."

"We decide there is no necessity," was the curt answer the President vouchsafed.

But Sir Charles Russell had the right of re-examining on this new bit of cross-examination by the Attorney-General, so he and asked Mr. Parnll to give him the explanation of these cheques.

For the time the storm was over, and amidst an intense silence Mr. Parnell proceeded, "These cheques were drawn by me in common with scores of other cheques of a similar character, and for the same purpose, namely, for the sustenance of prisoners who were confined as suspects under Mr. Forster's Act. There are many scores of cheques of the same kind, the names on which did not present the same significance, and the reading out of which would not therefore have served the purpose of the Attorney General—"

Everyone looked at the President to see how he would take this back-hander at the Attorney-General. Sure enough, he did not let it pass unchallenged.

"I must," he said, "take some means of bringing to an end this system of repeating observations which I have already observed are not justifiable; and I think the better way will be to adjourn Mr. Parnell's further examination until the documents are all before us."

"Very well," said Sir Charles, "but I will ask this one general question: Is there any difference between these cheques which, rightly or wrongly, had been singled out, and those which the Attorney-General has not read out?"—"Not in the slightest degree," responded Mr. Parnell warmly. "The cheques were drawn at a time long before these men were accused of the crime of which they were subsequently convicted, and therefore to my mind, or I should have produced them before." This was the end of the storm at last, and the court gradually simmered down.

Dr. Biggar relieved the tension by providing the court with a hearty laugh. A point of law cropped up, and, after the legal talent on either side had exhausted itself in the contention, Mr. Biggar, acting perfectly within his right as an unrepresented party to the proceedings, expressed his intention of bringing his legal powers to bear on the point. The court listened patiently till he made a passing reference to the "hirelings of the Government", when the President intervened, and Mr. Biggar corrected himself, substituting for the objectionable term the words, "officials of the Government." Again he urged on his wild career on this legal contention, and when he had finished the President unkindly remarked, "You have not assisted us at all". At first the President tried to keep a grave face, but seeing Mr. Biggar join in he could not repress the smile which forced its way on to his countenance, assisted by the sense of gratification at the revenge he had had on Mr. Biggar for the way in which the leading Parnellite counsel had angered him.

The legal point came as a boon and a blessing to the judges, for it enabled them to retire to consider their decision, and also to cool down a bit after the heated incident of the preceding ten minutes.

Archbishop Walsh was next called and examined by Mr. Reid, Q. C. He spoke of the distress, especially amongst the farming classes in Ireland, in 1879. The Land Act did not give effectual protection to the smaller tenants.

Sir J. Hannen said he thought the evidence as to the shortcomings of the Land Act was foreign to the enquiry.

Archbishop Walsh, in continuing, said it had been his duty to make inquiries as to the working of the Land League and the National League. The bishops consulted on the subject, and generally throughout the country the clergy were allowed to assume positions of responsibility in connection with the local branches of the League.

Mr. Reid, Q. C., proposed to ask what effect the working of the Leaguers had upon crime in Ireland.

The Attorney-General objected to the question, which led to a discussion, in which it was contended by Mr. Reid and Mr. Lockwood that similar evidence had been given for the other side.

Their lordships retired to consider the question raised, and after an absence of ten minutes returned.

Sir James Hannen said it was not permissible to put to a witness, however distinguished, an abstract question as to what was his opinion about the working of the League. The question was what means the Archbishop had on which he formed his opinion. They did not see that his Grace's opinion could be evidence.

Mr. Reid, Q. C., put a number of questions as to the knowledge his Grace had on the subject. The witness said he made inquiries in his diocese, and received reports on the subject from the clergy under him.

Sir James Hannen said his Grace was after all only giving a general opinion. He asked his Grace did he know any reason why his clergy should not join the League?

The Archbishop: No.

Sir J. Hannen: Then we draw our inferences from that.

Mr. Reid asked for an adjournment in order to enable the counsel to consider their position and to consult with Sir Charles Russell, who had left the court.

Sir James Hannen assented, and the Court soon after adjourned,

Railway Items.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY GUARANTEE—COMPLAINTS AGAINST THE BUENOS AIRES AND ROSARIO LINE.

The Pacific Railway Board have sent their little bill for six months' guarantee to Government. The bill is due for the half year ended March 31st ult., and amounts to the highly respectable sum of £30,923 13s. 3d., which is guarantee due on the section from Villa Mercedes, in the Province of Buenos Aires, to its namesake in the distant Province of San Luis. Mr. J. C. Cortinez is looking over the bill and will shortly report on it. We had almost forgotten to mention another little bill against the Government from the same quarter, viz, £14,983 18s. 11d., for guarantee (7 per cent) due on the first section of the line from Palermo to Mercedes. This means something like £96,000, which must go to swell the exports of gold. Mr. Cortinez, however, has yet to speak. The last-mentioned bill is safe, as orders have been issued for its payment. It is due since December last.

San Martin and Belgrano passengers are fit to be tied at this moment, and intend to do away with the Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway, owing to the serious delays which are now of daily occurrence on the 11.20 a.m. train. This is no doubt due to the congestion in the Central Station. But there is a good time coming, and Messrs. Madero will soon begin to erect the Grand Central Terminus.

The kilometrage run by the Pacific line in April last was: locomotives 130,134; carriages 190,776; waggons 373,030. Total 693,940.

Inspector Iriarte has written to Dr. Aracz informing him that, in spite of the arrangements made by the railways that enter the Central Station, to effect the parcels' and luggage service at the Retiro Station, the B. Ayres and Rosario Line still persists in sending them on to the Central, by order of the traffic superintendent, Mr. Glascow. The Inspector states that he took upon himself the responsibility of sending back a lot of parcels and luggage. He complains, moreover, that the Rosario Line does not put on a sufficient number of carriages for passengers to the Cuyo Provinces. He makes other complaints, which we have not time to mention.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The thermometer was so low yesterday that chattering teeth, chills and chilblains were the order of the day; and to this was added a cold-water-down-the-back sensation when the news flew round that a forgery of Santa Fe Bank notes had been discovered. Everyone plunged his hand 'instanter' into his pocket or purse, to see if he had any of the notes; and several countenances became "sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought" whenever an S. F. note came to light. No particulars were known, and it is thought the forgeries are not of much importance. The forged notes discovered up to the present are "fivers".

Good news for the ladies. We hear that another grand ball is on the tapis, to come off on the 2nd July. It will be called the "Nondescript Ball", as the hosts will be Benedicts, Bachelors, and Widowers on the look out for preferment.

There was a tremendous row yesterday in Plaza 25 de Mayo, in front of the Bolsa. Two gentlemen connected with that institution had some sharp words, fell out, and one pulling out a revolver struck the other in the face. The firearm went off, and the bullet lodged in the leg of an unfortunate old man. All marched off to the "Comisaria". Quonsque tandem.

For some reason, the exchange of Cordoba Bank notes at the National Bank began vigorously again yesterday, and there was a crowd at the counters all day.

We received the following 'poser' yesterday, and will thank some of our histrionically-inclined subscribers if they answer it, as we cannot:—

"Dear Standard,

"Would you through your columns permit me to ask, if any subscribers or readers of the "Standard" could oblige the writer by giving as near as possible the number of people that can be seated (in all parts) per night in each of the following theatres of this city: Politeama Argentino, Teatro de la Opera, Onrubia, Nacional, San Martin, Variedades, and Doria; also Olympo of La Plata."

Yours truly

F. L.

"Potro" boots appear to have made quite a sensation at the Paris Exhibition, and are looked on as a "curiosity." Here is what an exchange says: —A curious style of foot-gear is largely worn in South America. The Anthropological Society of Paris has been presented with a curiosity in the shape of a pair of boots which have this peculiarity, that the tops are absolutely without seam. The boots come from Buenos Ayres, and are a specimen of those used by the gauchos. They are made from the skin covering the tibia calcaneum, and metatarsus of the hind leg of the wild horse, the skin being stripped off whole. The tibia portion forms the top, the calcaneum the heel, and and the metatarsus the foot. The gauchos call the boots "botas de potio." The end of the foot is open, so that the toes may obtrude, the gauchos preferring to have their toes at liberty. The skin is tanned in the ordinary way. The demand for these boots is so great in South America that the skin of the legs of the domesticated horse, as well as of the ox, cow and mule is now utilised for the purpose."

Parties interested in Base Ball are notified that an important meeting takes place to-night at Messrs. Phillip's Office, Calle Chacabuco 332—See advert. in another column.—

The Mendoza Government has just led the way in conforming to a law passed by Congress after the row in 1880, viz., that the provinces shall not raise or maintain troops without the consent of the National Government." Provincial Battalions" have been a fruitful cause of civil trouble, and now Mendoza has got rid of its "army." It is to be hoped that the Federal Power will exercice a little gentle pressure on the other provinces, to induce them to follow the good example set by Mendoza.

Emperor Pedro dissolved the Brazilian Chambers on Saturday, and new elections will be held on August 31st. They will be of vital importance, as the Brazilian people have evidently pitched Conservatism overboard, and mean business in a very Liberal sense.

A funny thing is reported about the Madero South Dock. The crews of vessels that enter it complain of swarms of "sabandijas" (grubs) getting into their ships and banishing sleep. What is the cause of this phenomenon?

The Zoos were actively at work on Sunday and prevented several galled and maimed horses being attached to the cars at one of the stations. What are the several companies doing in reference to adopting the Electric Motor? Sleeping over it as usual, though there is money for them in the reform.

There was such a lively breeze at Montevideo on Sunday that passengers landing from the river and ocean steamers got ducked, lost their hats and grip-sacks in the water, and had otherwise a highly disagreeable time of it. One gentleman was within an inch of being pancaked between the tender and the mole.

The Port of La Plata will be opened on the 9th of July; but they say in the provincial capital that there will not be even a sandwich or glass of beer to celebrate the occasion, and there will be no ceremony whatever. This is quite a new departure from the free lunch custom of other and less extravagant days.

Talk of banking in the River Plate! It is really a slow, humdrum affair compared with the Chemical Bank of New York, the stock of which, originally $100 per share, now sells above $3,000. An investment of $10,000 in it at par would now represent over $300,000, not to speak of the enormous profits produced in the form of dividends. Probably no other bank in the world has enriched its shareholders, in proportion to the amount of money invested, as the Chemical Bank has done. This bank was the only one in the whole Union that did not suspend gold payments during the great civil war.

Figaro recounts a funny scene on the mole the other day when a lot of Spanish emigrants were landing. One of them was armed with a tremendous blunderbuss, and walked up the mole with his finger on the trigger. Of course the first policeman he met requested the pleasure of his company. At the Comisaria he caused great laughter, and escaped the $20 fine for carrying arms by saying to the Commissary; "Excuse me, Sir, I did not think I was coming to a city like this. My friends at home told me to keep my arms ready on landing, as half a dozen savages might swoop down on me the moment I stepped on shore." The Commissary, the clerks, the policemen, everybody present, got sore ribs from excess of laughter.

There is a private company in the field (Messrs. Mom and Quesada) asking to be allowed to supply the city with prime beasts for consumption, if they are exempted from all taxation, present and future. This is very kind and patriotic, but is still an inadmissible monopoly. However, the sooner the dear meat problem is solved any way the better, as the working classes can hardly be expected to stand the present terrible food pressure very much longer.

A gentleman named John Bonanza has caused a bit of a sensation in Paraguay by publishing a history of Spain and Portugal, in which he makes the flabbergasting assertion that Spanish was spoken in the Peninsula not only before the Romans dropped in, but before the foundation of Rome itself!! This is pretty stiff news for the world, which has hitherto been under the impression that modern Spanish only dates from the twelfth century.

Our letters from Europe yesterday were very interesting. Our Paris correspondent says that the catalogue of the Exhibition is a phenomenal work, six huge volumes, which would require a couple of porters to carry at the visitor's heels, if he wished to have it near him to consult. Buffalo Bill is the great sensation of the show. President and Madame Carnot paid a long visit to the "Wild West" and honoured Bill with a long chat.

It is said that a very big lawsuit about the Territorial de la Plata Company is on the cards. Better get this company on its legs again any way, even by law, and let it set to and make the Colorado Canal, one of the best schemes as yet proposed in this city of schemes of all kinds, good, bad and indifferent.

We fraternally request the Post Office to be particularly careful about delivering the Standard with chronometr cal punctuality to our camp subscribers, as yesterday we received an irate letter charging us with boycotting the writer and not sending him our paper because he is not a Parnellite or Home-ruler. With our right hand on the left side of our waistcoat, right over our heart, we beg to assure our subscriber that we never by any chance bring our political opinions to bear in the way he complains of. Besides, we are quite unaware what his political creed is. Home Ruler, Tory Radical, Repealer, or Unionist are all equally esteemed by us when they subscribe and pay up regularly.

Another sad suicide was announced yesterday, that of Mr. A. Ball, a young Custom House despatcher. He blew his brains out on Sunday evening. The unfortunate young man was a general favourite.

It appears by the inquiries made at Montevideo into the forgery of Brazilian notes, that they were mainly intended to be "worked off" in a noted gambling den in Pelotas.

The latest news from Jujuy is that a Free Bank is to be started there. More fat in the "curso forzoso" fire.

Everybody feels wretchedly depressed about the city toll. It's pretty plain that Boulevards, Avenues "y otras yerbas por el estilo" will have to take a back seat for some time to come.

There is a great ball match in the Plaza Euskara to-day, for the Damas de Beneficencia. Elicequi, Samperio and Baltazar will play Portal, Manco and Beloqui, for 60 up. All fashionable and charitable town will, of course, be present.

A serious complaint is made by "un Padre" in reference to some of the state schools in the capital, in which little ones are punished by being "put in a corner", standing, for several hours, and their lunch is taken from them. The Education Board will probably make things a little unpleasant for the teachers who have been guilty of this sort of thing.

The Southern Cross says: "A correspondent puts us a problem in the Rule of Three. If it takes nine months in England, where all evidence is verbal, to settle the Times-Forgery case, how long would it take to decide on the merits of the same case in Buenos Aires, according to the antiquated system of 'escritos'? We are not certain, but we suppose about a thousand years."

In reference to the new British Benevolent Fund at Montevideo, the Times of that city says:—"On Thursday evening a meeting was held of those interested in the formation of this new society. Mr Hope Lafone was voted to the chair. Amongst those present were Messrs. Robinson, Connor, Gurney, Beausire, Ucill, and Holdsworth. It was arranged to change the name of the society to that of Winter Evening Entertainments. The first concert is expected to take place within some 8 days, though the date was not absolutely fixed. The musical arrangements were left to the care of Messrs. Hope Lafone and J. Connor."

Our colleague Figaro has now entered the Monday Editorial

Los cereales se producen en el Salto como en ninguna parte, pero ademas de esto, estos terrenos tienen una especialidad, que los hacen superiores á todos los demas de la provincia.

La semilla de alfalfa que se cosecha en el Salto es de calidad extra y es solicitada en el mercado a precios un 20 o|o mayor que la que se produce en otras partes.

Principalmente a la cultura de esta semilla forrajera, debe esta localidad los adelantos prodigiosos que ha realizado: Merced á sus propias fuerzas sin siquiera vias de comunicacion.

Calculese lo que valdra estas tierras, lo que tengan dos ferro-carriles y un tramway que las cruze.

Al Salto! pues los agricultores a comprar tierra, superior, barata y con desembolso insignificance.

The week opens with a fairly buoyant stock market. All values continue to maintain the high quotations attained at the opening of the month, and were it not that some brokers have already started the cry of a tightening tendency in the money market, a further advance might be expected in quotations. With regard to money, it is still much cheaper than it has been since May of 1888, and although the liquidation will naturally cause a greater stringency, it is more than probable that the present rumour is dictated by the wish that is father of the thought. Nat. Bank Shares keep firm at 266.50 for end of month and 265.50 for end of July, and it is said that the brokers of the syndicate are buying for both dates, being credited today with one lot of 2,000 shares for July at 265.50; this points to a further withdrawal of shares and directly to a further advance in rates. Constructors were a trifle weaker at 136 for cash and 137 for end of month. Catalinas were neglected, only one lot of a hundred being sold at 161.50 for end of month. La Plata Moles improved to 167 and closed at 166 for same date. Madero Port Shares were stiff at 135. Pobladora Shares were firm and in demand at 189 cash and 191 end of month, sellers refusing at the close to let go under 195 and 194. Pobladores Scrip was fairly steady at 61.50 for cash and 62 end of month. Cedulas were weak.

The sale of Mr. Francisco Madero's house in Calle Suipacha, the house where Gen. Roca lived during his administration, at 300 m/n per vara, is reported.

The boletos for the "contribucion directa" for city property were given round to-day. Most property-holders were put into a fever by these papers, as in Calle Maipu the increase is 33 o/o.

One hundred Shares of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata were sold to-day at 280 gold, which is 180 gold premium.

The great rise in gold to-day caused a nervous feeling in the market, and the opponents of Minister Varela seemed to be in good humour. The projects are under discussion, and the Committee meet at Don Gregorio Torres's house.

Mr. H. Casey, who arrived up from Montevideo this morning, was welcomed on 'Change. Affairs in the Mount show great improvement. Respecting our correspondent's telegram in our last issue, we think it right to say that Mr. Casey, President of the Obras Company, does not come within the category of bull or bear.

Paper money rules very abundant, but gold scarce, and most of the brokers report private banks for the moment not discounting.

It is rumoured that the series O, Provincial Cedulas, is now exhausted, and a new series P, for one hundred millions, is talked of.

Four ports on the South coast are to be established:—
Bahia Falsa
Bahia Brightman
Bahia Union
Bahia San Blas

And a railway along the coast from Bahia Blanca to Patagones, connecting all these ports, is to be constructed; the concession is being done at La Plata; the engineers to make the surveys leave immediately.

Advices from Rosario announce that the Banco de Santa Fé y Colonias, in course of formation and with some 200,000 dollars of the capital already subscribed, has been dissolved a meeting of shareholders at which the proposed statutes were rejected and the dissolution thus tacitly resolved. A new bank on similar bases will be started. Great complaint is being made in commercial circles over the resolution of the banks to advance their rate of interest from 1st July to 12 o/o, as there seems to be apparently no just grounds for such a measure. A project is on the tapis to start a Franco Argentino bank with capital of 10 million francs, half of the capital to be subscribed in France and half in Rosario and Buenos Ayres.

The following new Centro Agricola concessions are reported: To Mr. N. Garcia Leguizamon for 6000 hectares in Trenque Lauquen; to Mr. C. Zalazar for the lot letter W of state lands; to Mr. A. Ozuela for 10,000 hectares in Adolfo Alsina colony; to Mr. W. Lausden for 25,500 hectares in 9 de Julio.

There is very little doing in the exchange market, and brokers report rates a trifle weaker, owing to the fact that drawers have not as yet come forward, there being no packet until Saturday next. The Provincial Bank draws at 47¼d. Francs are quoted at 4.95—0½ Paris, and 4.97—98 Antwerp.

It was announced this evening that the Banco Comercial of Montevideo has sold its splendid property in the Calle 18 de Julio at the corner of the plaza for $235,000, making a clear 100 per cent on the business.

The market staggered to-day under the tremendous news of the gold premium being at 167½. This rate outherods all "curso forzoso" experiences and made parties tremble with anxiety as they inquired at intervals how the rate stood. Fortunately in the evening the market was much easier and the rate closed at 166,60 buyers. Brokers attributed the advance to the fact that Minister Varela will require the gold from the new free banks this month, but in other quarters this explanation is not accepted.

Business at the second hour was brisk all round. National Bank Shares were in great demand for end of July, and the price for that date fluctuated between 265.50 and 266; only a small business was done for end month, and the rate closing at 266.50 between buyers and sellers, Constructors were a trifle weaker, closing at 136.50 cash and 136 end of month. Pobladora shares, so firm at the first hour, opened at 195 and closed at 190 with buyers. Pobladores Railway Scrip was firm, and many parties think that the scrip is now at a quotation fully equal to its value. Banco Comercial de La Plata shares fell away to 2 o/o discount, an ominous symptom when the Fomento and Sociedad Territorial quotations are remembered. The City of Buenos Aires gold mortgage bonds were in brisk movement, closing at 80 both for cash and end July. Credito Real Shares were also in fair demand, but ruled a trifle weaker in rate, closing at 158 cash and 159 end month. La Plata Moles were neglected, and only a few lots of Previsora shares changed hands at 176. National Cedulas were firm, and Provincial series a little improved.

The Banco Constructor de La Plata has asked Government for payment of 502,856 dollars for Comisarias, Juzgados de Paz, and residences erected for the Health Committees.

Don Carlos Carranza has asked for approval of the statutes of a company called "Villa Jardin," to construct a "model town" capital a round million.

The Government has approved the contract between the Post-office and Bazan Bros. for erecting a new Post-office, on the plans of Engineers Maillard Bros., for the sum of $1,824,533.

Government has granted to J.A. Ledesma and Co. the permission they asked to cut down forests in the Chaco.

A joint-stock company on co-operative basis has been started to take over Mr. Cser's business of importing English boots and shoes. The capital is fixed at 50,000 dollars, and the shares are almost all taken up, which shows what expectations are founded on the success of the business. Prices will be moderate and the article genuine, so that the enterprise will undoubtedly prove as successful as the Co-operative Stores.

Mr. Frederick Freund, land surveyor, was welcomed to-day from the Land of Oranges, which he reports going ahead amazingly. Nobody is better calculated to form an opinion on this point than Mr Freund, who knows Paraguay better than the Paraguayans themselves.

The English ship Crown of India has put into Montevideo in distress, the captain, Mr. H. Cruzelier, reposting that being caught in a squall off Brazil he lost many of his sails, the crew then refusing to navigate to the West Coast, for which the vessel was bound.

Late advices from the Mount announce that a syndicate has been formed to take up 10,000 Obras Shares this month, which will no doubt tend to advance the price of the stock. The International Exhibition is now looked upon as a "fait accompli," as Mr. Levey's proposals to the Government have been accepted, and only the details of minor importance remain over for settlement.

The Port Returns of the Mount corresponding to April 1889 shew 74 steamers and 49 sailing-vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 155,108 arrived, and 80 steamers and 49 sailing vessels with 153,126 tons sailed for foreign ports. Passengers and immigrants arrived in same month, 1,257 souls.

Advices from San Nicolas announce real-estate advancing at a tremendous pace. Mr. Santiago Bengolia, who bought a saladero property some months ago at 30 or 40 cents the vara, has been offered and declined one dollar the vara, refusing to consider any offer under double the rate.

Advices from the Mount announce the arrival there of 56,000 dols. in specie to Mr. Supervielle from B. Ayres.

Mr. Charles Gowland, manager of the National Bank, has resigned, his successor for the present being Mr. P. C. Towers. As is well known when Dr. Ayarragaray resigned the post of manager, Mr. Gowland at the request of the board took the post only temporarily, and during the brief period he has been manager the march of the bank has been characterised by an enormous increase in business and sound management.

The Obras shareholders have been advised that a term of 80 days has been fixed in which the present provisional scrip must be changed for the shares.

Only two of Dr. Reus's creditors are now holding aloof from the composition of 40 o/o offered, and it is thought that the whole matter will be soon arranged. The 40 o/o composition will be paid as follows: 16 o/o cash and the remaining 24 o/o in vales guaranteed by Mr. E. Casey, the president of the company.

Mr. McGarrell, the well-known English grocer in Rosario, left with his family on Saturday in the R. M. S. Don for Europe. We wish Mr. McGarrell a pleasant voyage and vacation. He expects to be back eight months hence.

We learn that the eminent firm of cabinet makers, Messrs. Maple and Co. of London have the entire furnishing of the new Hotel Metropole, Monte Carlo, and also the Savoy Mansions Hotel, London, a line of business for which they have a world-wide reputation.
